Obituaries

Roger Coulter

Roger Coulter, 82, of Cohasset, a prominent trial lawyer, died Wednesday, Aug. 29, after a long illness.

Born in Baltimore, Md., he had lived in Cohasset for the past 50 years.

He was a senior partner in the law firm of Parker, Coulter, Daley and White and was a fellow of the American College of Trial Lawyers, Boston Bar Association, Massachusetts Bar Association, and American Bar Association.

A veteran of World Wars I and II, he had served as a major in the Marine Corps.

He was prominent in many civic and social organizations, including the Ward Room Club and Cohasset Yacht Club; he was also active on various town committees.

Coulter was a graduate of Governor Dummer Academy, Williams College and Harvard Law School. He had been a trustee of Governor Dummer Academy and a member of the Williams Club and the Harvard Club.

He was the husband of the late Rosamond Coulter, and leaves a son, Robert O. Coulter of Guilford, Conn.; a daughter, Marion C. Bowditch of Cohasset; a sister, Jean O. Coulter of Cohasset and eight grandchildren.

A memorial service was held Sunday in First Parish Church of Cohasset.

Donations may be made to First Parish Church.
